

Bike Riders Subject to Vehicle Law

The traditional summer upsurge in bicycle usage brought a reminder for youngsters from California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden this week. "Remember that a bicycle is a vehicle, and is subject to applicable vehicle laws. Bicycle riders must use the proper hand signals when turning, they must obey all traffic control signs and signals, and they must ride on the right-hand side of the road. "The latter provision is one of the most frequently violated requirements," the commissioner pointed out. "For night-time riding, bikes must be equipped with a white light in the front, visible at least 300 feet, and a red reflector or red light on the rear, also visible 300 feet." The commissioner also cautioned motorists to be particularly watchful for youthful bike riders. "With school out, bicycle riders may appear at unusual times and at locations where you ordinarily would not expect to see them."

The chamber said the information was needed from churches, civic groups, Scout troops, YMCA, YWCA, and all other groups who have members in Lomita. Information should include the names of officers, telephone numbers, addresses, meeting dates and anything else that the public should know about the group.
